Why would you like to audition for the intensive program?

Expectations of the Intensive Program

You must be 7 years of age by January 2008 in order to audition for the intensive program. The intensive program is an elite program dedicated to students who are quick learners, have talent for dance, and are able to keep up with the standard. It is not mandatory that a student be placed with their age group as a child will be placed on his/her ability so they excel at their own level. If you are accepted into the intensive program, you will be placed into 2 ballet classes, 1 jazz class and 1 modern class per week. Interplay staff members have the right to suggest that a child be transferred into the recreational program if they are unable to keep up with the program standards. Intensive students who are already in the program, must re-audition each season. Students must not take for granted that they will continue in the program from year to year. They must continue to work hard and be able to cope with the intense training. Intensive students are obligated in taking a ballet exam each year so they have something to work towards. You will also be invited to audition to dance with the Youth ensemble in special performances.

I understand the expectations of the Intensive program and would like my child to audition.
